NEP MILITARY This is a broad-based group that has organized local councils for veterans' problems and business associations in the Midwest and government officials and business leaders. "Never has the joint effort of the business and veterans' groups been so high," says the group's chairman, Michael H. Flanagan. "The group's members are working toward the goal of giving maximum support to the armed forces, their families and veterans' organizations in the private sector government."

Microsoft's 2001 earnings report, which will be available on the Internet, will include a section on the company's commitment to fighting terrorism. Microsoft's president, Steve Ballmer, will speak at the meeting.

has succeeded to that point. What I am suggesting is that we can't wait for a majority of working people to join the movement which righted the workers' pension. In the process of doing that, we can't ignore the other workers' pension, which is the pension of the public sector workers. We have to do that in January 2004. That is the reason why I am supporting the amendment of the Labour Party, which is to give the government a 10 per cent increase in the former teachers' pension. The danger is that if the government makes the teachers' pension worse, it will be hard to argue that it is not responsible for failing the pensioners. But I have no objection to that.
